UKRAINIAN PRISONERS AT RAVENSBRÜCK

(listed as Ukrainians in documents or born in Ukraine)

October 2026

The author has attempted to identify Ukrainian women from the various documents in the references, below. Only women who self-identified as being Ukrainian, or those who were born within the 'accepted' territories of Ukraine, were included (many from western Ukraine were listed as Polish, those from eastern Ukraine as Russian and some from Zakarpatia as Chechs or Hungarian).

Information differed, for some women, depending on the source/reference - the author has attempted to be as acurate as possible in this database, given the challenges and limitations.

This database is continuously being updated, so we encourage individuals to contact UCRDC if they are aware of names, or additional information, of women who were incarcerated at Ravensbrück. (office@ucrdc.org)

Snisarenko, Vera	1943		Born March 1925 in the village Nowogrigorjewka [Novohrivorevka] Taken as forced labour from October 1942 in Hamburg forced to work in a factory producing tires for the Wehrmacht. At the end of 1943, Vera Snisarenko was accused of sabotage, arrested, interrogated at Hamburg-Fuhlsbüttel Prison, severely mistreated, and eventually deported to the Ravensbrück concentration camp for women. In 1944, she arrived at the Barth subcamp of the concentration camp where she was forced to work at the Heinkel aircraft factory. She refused to work; guards poured water over Vera and forced her to stand outside in the cold in the yard. The wet rags froze to her body. She contracted pneumonia and then tuberculosis At the end of 1944, Vera Snisarenko, seriously ill and unable to work, was brought back to Ravensbrück, where she was murdered on March 31, 1945.
